Editorial guidelines

Editor

Laura Vallis
editor.networks@
abacus-comms.co.uk

We are an independent publication, offering an entirely objective view of the industry. We do not buy, sell, trade or receive any sort of goods in return for printing editorial which features any given company.

We don't allow our editorial to be used as a means of promoting a company. Articles may present the newsworthy acts and/or opinions of named companies, but all measures are taken to ensure that articles within NETWORKS EUROPE magazine reports the objective facts without bias.

Submissions

Submissions may take the form of letters, interviews, articles, news or press releases.

All editorial received from third parties is subject to the editor-in-chief's ultimate approval, and submission of an article is no guarantee of publication. All submissions should be made in British English. Successful submissions will be subject to editing and alteration as the editor-in-chief sees fit.

No contact details for any featured company will be published; that is what advertising is for. Where possible, we place a link to the contributing company's website in the byline for all our features.

Where possible, submissions should be accompanied by a selection of high-resolution images (minimum 300 dpi, in *.png, *.eps or *.jpg format) which should be relevant to the article. Accompanying images should not show any company logo, or at least seek to make any logo present as unobtrusive and indiscernible as possible.

Positioning of an article within the magazine is at the discretion of the editorial team.

News

We accept press releases, product launch information, staff changes and company news items and publish these articles without bylines in the news section of our magazine. We also publish these online on our website.

Features articles

We accept unbiased, neutral features articles that are between 600-1500 words and are written with industry-centric information interesting to our readership.

Features are also promoted and published online.

Full editorial guidelines can be found on our website HERE.

Got a suggestion?

We appreciate and encourage suggestions for interesting, thought provoking and informative news and feature content.

Features are always credited to the author and the company or organisation concerned but must remain unbiased, neutral and feature no company or product placement.

If you are interested in contributing an article or news story, please contact the editor, Laura Vallis, at editor.networks@abacus-comms.co.uk and, in the case of feature ideas, please also describe the subject matter/ angle for the proposed article - along with a brief synopsis.

Our detailed editorial guidelines can be found HERE.

Editorial coverage is provided free (at the discretion of the editor), although please do bear in mind that the magazine is funded solely by advertising revenues, which helps to enable us to continue curating and sharing, engaging, informative and educative news and feature / bylined articles, on behalf of the companies involved in the industry.

Oh, and don't forget to put Laura on your press release mailing list!

Terms and conditions

1. Definitions

- 1.1 In these terms and conditions:
“Advertisement” means the Advertiser’s advertisement as booked in the Order Form. “Advertiser” means the Advertiser named on the Order Form. “Order” means the order set out on the Order Form. “Order Form” means the Advertising Order Form accompanying these terms and conditions. “Publication” means the Publication referred to in the Order Form. “Publisher” means Abacus Communications.
- 1.2 Headings will not be interpreted as affecting the meaning of the terms and conditions.

2. Advertising Order

- 2.1 The Advertiser has irrevocably ordered advertising space as set out on the Order Form. These terms and conditions apply to the order.
- 2.2 The order shall be binding once acceptance has been communicated by fax or mail by Abacus Communications.
- 2.3. The Advertiser shall nominate a person to be the main point of contact for the Publisher and any person so nominated whether on the Order Form or otherwise shall be treated as having the authority to make decisions on behalf of the Advertiser.

3. Advertising Space and Content

- 3.1. The location, size and appearance of the advertising space provided to the Advertiser will correspond as nearly as possible to that specified in the Order Form or otherwise notified to the Advertiser but may not do so exactly and in any case the Publisher reserves the right to:
- (i) change the appearance, title, form or content or publication date of the Publication; and
 - (ii) arrange other advertisements near (or not near) the Advertisement as it decides in its discretion.
- 3.2 The Advertiser will promptly provide all copy and other information and material in the format reasonably requested by the Publisher and in any event will provide copy and any changes by the Copy Date shown on the Order Form. Failure to do so means that the Advertisement may not be included in the publication in the form desired by the Advertiser or at all.

- 3.3 The Advertiser is responsible for all design and content of the Advertisement and warrants that it will comply with all laws, regulations and codes of practice and with the Publisher’s policies and requests. The Advertiser further warrants that the Advertisement will not infringe any copyright or trade marks or other intellectual property or other rights of any third parties. The Advertiser will indemnify the Publisher and its officers and employees against all costs, claims, loss, damage and expenses suffered by them in connection with the Advertisement and/or any breach of this clause.

- 3.4 The Publisher reserves the right to refuse the use or display of any content it deems in its absolute discretion to be offensive, inappropriate or unsuitable.

- 3.5 Quoted circulation figures are representative of the readership and maybe quoted in either digital, print or a combination of both.

4. Payment terms

- 4.1 Payment by the Advertiser will be due on the date of publication of the Advertisement. Payment must be made in the currency shown in the Order Form. Orders may not be cancelled by the Advertiser and payment will be due whether or not the Advertiser complies with deadlines for submitting copy.
- 4.2 VAT or equivalent taxes will be added to all payments where applicable.
- 4.3 Without prejudice to its other rights the Publisher will be entitled to charge interest on any late payments at the rate of 4 per cent. above the base rate of its bankers from time to time applicable to the relevant currency.
- 4.4 The Publisher may set off any fees payable by the Advertiser against any monies it owes to the Advertiser.

5. Termination

- 5.1 The Publisher reserves the right to terminate the agreement formed by these terms and conditions and treat the Order as cancelled in any of the following events:
- (i) any payment by the Advertiser is not received by the due date;
 - (ii) the Advertiser is in breach of any of these terms and conditions; or

- (iii) the Advertiser becomes insolvent or unable to pay its debts or has an order or application or resolution made for its winding up or has a receiver or administrator appointed over it or makes an arrangement with its creditors or suffers any similar consequence of debt.

6. Publisher’s Liability

- 6.1 The Publisher shall be liable only as explicitly set out in the Order and these terms and conditions and any terms implied by law which are able to be excluded are excluded. The Publisher will not be deemed to have made any representation or entered into any warranty not contained in these terms and conditions.
- 6.2 The Advertiser shall in no circumstances be liable for indirect loss, management time or loss of profit.
- 6.3 Without prejudice to the above the Publisher’s liability shall be limited to the fees paid by the Advertiser and the Publisher shall have no further liability, it being accepted that no limitation applies to liability for fraud or death or personal injury arising from the Publisher’s negligence.

7. Other terms

- 7.1 The terms and conditions, and the Order, may only be varied by written document signed by both the Advertiser and the Publisher
- 7.2 No failure or delay by the Publisher in enforcing its rights shall prevent it from enforcing some or all of them in the future.
- 7.3 If any of these terms and conditions are invalid or unenforceable only the offending part shall be deemed deleted and the remainder of the terms and conditions shall be unaffected.
- 7.4 The Advertiser’s rights or obligations may not be assigned to any third party but the Publisher may assign its rights and/or obligations by notice to the Advertiser.
- 7.5 These terms and conditions are governed by and construed in accordance with English law and you submit to the jurisdiction of the English courts in relation to any dispute or claim, without affecting the right of the Publisher to take proceedings in any other location.

Full terms and conditions can be found on our website.
